UA Civil Engineering/Construction Student David Rodriguez Awarded the 2017-18 Heavy Civil Scholarship from the Beavers

Congratulations to David Rodriguez on receiving the Beavers Scholarship for UA civil engineering students pursuing careers in heavy civil construction. The Beavers was founded in 1955 as a heavy civil construction association. “The purpose of the Beavers is to promote goodwill, friendliness and consideration within the heavy engineering construction industry; to give recognition to those men and women who have demonstrated particular skill, responsibility and integrity; and to encourage and support entry of promising young individuals into heavy engineering construction.”

This summer David has been an intern with Whiting-Turner Contracting Company in Phoenix where he worked on the Block 23 project. David states, “I have been in contact with subcontractors requesting bid proposals for the project, doing take-offs and attending scope of work review meetings. It has been a lot of fun and I have learned a lot about construction management during my time here.” David has been taking Construction courses at UA. This academic year David is the Project Manager for the UA ASCE Concrete Canoe team.
