Shiann Claridge attends Kiewit’s Women in Construction and Engineering Leadership Seminar

University of Arizona Architectural Engineering student Shiann Claridge joined over 70 female engineering students from the US and Canada as part of the third annual Women in Construction and Engineering Leadership Seminar (WCELS) in Omaha, Nebraska on February 20-21, 2020. WCELS helps develop leadership skills, expand industry knowledge, and cultivate a passion for construction. Kiewit introduces students to female employees of Kiewit who share their experiences, motivations, and challenges. Speakers provided an authentic view of both successes and failures. Students are encouraged to have confidence in their own abilities and the strengths that they can bring to their work.

Shiann has been an intern with DPR Construction for the last two years and will join DPR full time after graduation in May 2021.
